SANTA ANA COLLEGE

Homecoming Week Coronation, dance to cap activities

It could be said that it's been a busy week for the SAC Student Body, the ASSAC Senate and most of all the 1981 Homecoming Court.

On Monday of this week, the five finalists were judged to decide this year's homecoming queen. Ten people including last year's queen Maria Flores were selected to judge the lovely ladies on grace, style, personality, charm and beauty. The final decision will be made known to the public at tomorrow night's SAC - Citrus College football game at Eddie West Field.

The candidates for homecoming queen as selected by campus-wide voting last week are Susan Jackson, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Sigma; Tina Marie Bauman, sponsored by the football team; Monica Avalos, sponsored by MEChA; Dee Dee Davis, sponsored by the men's basketball team; and Tracy Lee Herbert, sponsored by the Latter Day Saints. The contestants have reigned over a week of ASSAC-sponsored contests, concerts, dunk tanks and barbecues.

Although the candidates have been competing against each other for the past few weeks, they feel no ill will for each other.

"You're not competing against each other, you're competing against the judges," said court member Bauman. "I also like the way the queen is being selected."

The selection process was changed this year because of reasons cited in past elections by ASSAC and others.

"In the past, popularity, not personality or anything like that was the main factor in the mass elections," said Student Activities Director Darlene Jacobson. "Past homecoming elections were nothing but a meat market."

All the finalists had their doubts about running for the court. Susan Jackson summed it up for all the candidates.

"I wasn't too sure about running at first. For me, it was basically a confidence booster. I would've run anyway," she explained.

For candidate Dee Dee Davis, a little luck was involved in her election to the court.

"I was originally going to be sponsored by the Black Student Union," said Davis, "but they had another candidate besides me. I knew a friend from the BSU who was on the basketball team, and he said that the team would be glad to sponsor me. So I accepted."

Monica Avalos was a little pessimistic about making the final five. "It was a little scary. There were a lot of candidates (15) for the court, and it was the first time I'd run for anything like that."

For Tracy Herbert, this is the second time for the court honors. Her experience last year was probably the biggest help in her "Do you know this girl?" slogan. "I spent about $15 and a lot of time on my campaign," said Herbert.

Tomorrow night, the homecoming activities will come to a close with the crowning of the queen at the SAC - Citrus College contest beginning at 7 p.m.

After the game, there will be a dance at the new campus center from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The wear is casual and admission is free with a SAC I.D. card. All SAC students attending may bring one guest who does not attend the school.

Gauchos drop SAC by five as Dons lose by one, 14-13

Five lousy, stinking yards.

That's the difference between the SAC football squad being 6-1 instead of 5-2, after last Saturday's 14-13 defeat at the hands of unbeaten Saddleback in Mission Viejo.

In the end, it came down to a field goal attempt by Don kicker Jess Zamora. The problem was, it was from 64 yards out.

Zamora, who at 6-2, 260 would never remind you of say ex-Miami Dolphin kicker Garo Yepremian as far as physical appearance goes, almost managed to break the pro football field goal record of 63 yards when his boot dropped just five yards shy.

"It's a game anybody could have won," Saddleback coach Ken Swearingen explained. "We both played very well and we both had our chances and we both got down there (near the goal line) and screwed up. I thought it was a very even game and we won by one point."

SAC now stands 2-1 in its initial campaign in the Mission Conference, 1½ games behind league-leader Saddleback who is a perfect 4-0. While much was made about Saturday's game being for the conference title, Swearingen believes the race is far from over.

"We feel we have three championship games in a row," Swearingen appraised of the games involving SAC last week, Citrus a week from tomorrow and Riverside Nov. 28. "That's the way we have to play it."

Before the Gauchos get their shot at Citrus, the Dons will host the Owls tomorrow night in a 7:30 p.m.

Homecoming affair.

Citrus, under the leadership of head coach John Strycula, came into the season boasting an overall record of 102-36 in the last 14 seasons. The Azusa-based school is 58-17-4 in Mission Conference play and has won conference titles in 1971, '72, '75, '76, and '79. The Dons are well aware of the strength of tomorrow's opponent, realizing that if they win their remaining games, the chance exists that either Citrus or Riverside can upset Saddleback.

"We've got three more games and we can't dwell on this one," SAC defensive coordinator Ben Rapp explained of the Dons' hopes. "We'll have to hopefully look for a co-champion as far as somebody beating Saddleback, though I don't think that will happen."

Individually, quarterback Bob Frasco broke Jerry Dyer's nine-year-old record for most yards gained passing with his 260 yards Saturday. The Don freshman stands at the top with 1,640 yards to Dyer's 1,602. Frasco was 22 of 42 through the air and his 121 completions puts him four behind last year's signal-caller, Steve Brown, for most passes completed in a single season.

As a team, the Dons ate up 416 yards in total offense (156 on the ground), while Saddleback could manage but 272.

Water Polo closes championship gap

by Gary Hollins
Entertainment Editor

When asked about his strategy just before the water polo match against Cerritos, coach Bob Gaughran replied, "I don't know. I think I'll put the sharks out into the pool."

If there were any sharks patrolling last Friday, they were in the form of tenacious SAC poloists Greg Terry, Terry Vettters and Bobby Gaughran as the Dons clinched the match, 13-8, to up their South Coast Conference leading record to 8-1.

The name of the game in the Cerritos - SAC square off was defense from the start, with only seven goals scored in the first half, five of them by SAC.

The contest was deadlocked 1-1 at the end of the first quarter, when the SAC defense put the bite on the Falcons, shutting them out totally in the second quarter. Meanwhile the Dons were striking for three goals, two of them by freshman Lonnie Graham.

"Lonnie came in and played a super game," said coach Gaughran. "Defense was the overriding factor in this game, and they (Cerritos) knew it would be too."

Graham came into the match to score the two goals, while Terry, Vettters and Gaughran Jr. tallied three apiece.

With the win against Cerritos, the Don poloists are one step closer to clinching the SCC championship for the first time ever. They host Mt. SAC today at 3:30 p.m. before finishing up the league season next Friday at home against San Diego Mesa.

When asked the reason for such success this year in comparison with teams of old, Gaughran stated, "I would have to say it's basically because we have a more experienced squad this year than in the past. Greg (Terry) has been playing great this year as has Vettters and all the other returning kids. Sophomores basically carry the load in our overall teamwork."

With the Dons 17-6 overall record this year, they present a formidable challenge to anyone crossing their paths. Sort of like the man-eater in Jaws.

WET AND WILD -- Despite the invading hand of a Cerritos opponent, Greg Terry scored with this shot in SAC's 13-8 conquest last Friday.

VALIANT EFFORT -- Jesse Zamora just missed this 64-yard field goal attempt with no time left in SAC's heartbreaking 14-13 loss to Saddleback

Saturday. A penalty gave him a second chance five yards closer, but the 59-yarder was far short. (photo by Mike Schwartz)

The latter stages of the second period proved to be a nightmare for the Dons, when a fumbled punt and an interception set up both Gaucho scores.

Courtney Lane misjudged a Saddleback punt that gave the hosts the ball on the Don 34 where quarterback Lance Stewart needed just four plays to make the score SAC 7, Saddleback 6 as the PAT sailed wide.

Right after the subsequent kickoff, Frasco found Gaucho defensive back Chip Jarvis all alone and the resulting interception set up a 39-yard scoring march that was culminated by a Stewart-to-John Marshall two-point conversion to make the score 14-7.

Zamora kicked two field goals for SAC from 37 and 40 yards out to account for the final score.

The Dons would end up only two of six in field goals for the night, after Zamora's game-ending boot of 59 yards was no where close.

That attempt came after the 64-yard shot fell just short. A Saddleback penalty gave the visitors their final gasp of life, but the 59-yarder failed.

SAC soccer team finishes season

OUCH! -- This collision was typical of the highly physical soccer action in Fullerton's 3-1 victory over SAC last Friday, bumping the Dons from a playoff berth.

(photo by Gil Leyvas)

by Kurt Schauppner
Staff Writer

Even as late as last Friday, SAC's soccer team held on to a slim hope of continuing play into the postseason.

"We have to win our two remaining games, and other teams will have to cooperate," said coach Kevin Bove before Friday's crucial game.

Unfortunately, Fullerton beat the Dons 3-1 to end any playoff hopes. Rafael Cantuna scored for SAC.

Said the new mentor, "Last year they (the squad) only won once. It's no doubt it has to be considered a building year."

"We have only two people from last year," he continued, "and only one is starting."

The Dons' remaining league game was played Tuesday against Mt. San Antonio. (Score unavailable at press time.)

Speaking about the Fullerton game, Bove stated, "We were entering this game without two of our starting mid-field players, consequently, we have no depth."

The two performers Bove spoke of were nullified from competition in one game after being red-carded in a previous match.

Speaking on discipline, Bove said, "I would definitely classify that as a problem."

He continued in the same vein saying, "Each player certainly has to take responsibility for his own actions."

Bove addressed his team's standings, claiming, "Without a doubt, ...without the red cards we would have been higher up."

Referring to a record of 3-4-4, the Don coach praised his squad, saying, "Regardless of how these two games turned out, we can say we had an improvement over last season."

When asked about prospects for next season, Bove stated that he looked forward to "the ability to recruit from now until next season." He was not appointed until too late to do much searching for talent this year.

He also brought up his "continued association with this school" as something he looked forward to.

As part of this point, Bove stated that the administration had been "immensely supportive" of his soccer program.

WANTED: Students currently attending Santa Ana College weighing between 150-170 pounds with any experience whatsoever in the sport of wrestling. Contact Frank Addleman.

Considering the dilemma SAC head wrestling coach Addleman confronts entering the 1981-82 season, it wouldn't be too surprising to see such an ad appear in an upcoming edition of el Don or on posters around the campus.

With its first match coming up on the 18th of this month, the Don wrestling team presently doesn't have anyone competing in two of the middleweight classes.

Only 14 athletes are currently on the squad at SAC, which was a South Coast Conference power just a few years ago. So what has been the reason for declining turnout despite increasing enrollment?

Addleman finds dilemma in quantity, not quality

"The trend in wrestling -- and every sport for that matter -- in community colleges is that not many kids are going out for athletics," said Addleman. "We used to get 30 or 40 kids out for wrestling every year, but now most kids have to get a job to meet expenses, and that along with their studies and athletics, too, is just too much."

Of the few wrestlers Addleman does have to work with, however, he claims there is an abundance of quality.

At 121 pounds will be freshman Dave Flores, a Texas state champion last year. Flores also placed third in the Junior World Elite Championships in Colorado Springs, Neb. during the offseason, so Addleman expects him to be very competitive in the SCC.

Three talented wrestlers are currently battling for the spot at 129 pounds. Freshman Ken Zwick and Mike Morrow were both state champions as seniors in high school last season, and will be competing with sophomore returner Skip Baker, a conference runner-up in 1980-81. Addleman says all three are good enough for the spot, and the two that don't make it will move up a weight class to compete, especially in the dual matches.

Dan Hopkins figures to be SAC's 137-pounder. Hopkins is a two-time state champion from New York, and Addleman believes he has "real good possibilities" on the community college level.

Santa Ana High School graduate Mario Casas presently has the edge at 142 pounds.

"Mario has looked real good so far," said Addleman. "He didn't place in CIF last year -- and I'm surprised he didn't -- but he'll do real well."

The Dons' big problems lie in the middle weights. Richard Coons is the 150-pounder for now, but Addleman says he's overloaded with classes and finances, so it is questionable as to whether or not he will be able to participate this year.

At 158, Jeff Bauman is potentially one of the top in the SCC, but he has been hampered with a knee injury, so he, too, is uncertain.

Santa Ana College will be forced to forfeit its matches at 167, unless someone comes out late for the team in that weight division.

Things look optimistic for the Dons again in the upper divisions, starting with Rich Battersey at 177 pounds. Battersey wrestled for Orange Coast College during the 1978-79 season, and played nose guard for the Saddleback football team last year, so his main problem will be to get back into wrestling after a two-year layoff.

SAC football players Marcus Johnson and Ed Miller will round out the upper weights at 190 and heavyweight, respectively. Johnson, from Michigan, and Miller, from Oklahoma, both placed in their state meets.

Dona volleyballers grasp for improvements

by Gil Leyvas
Staff Writer

Though the end of the season is right around the corner, the SAC women's volleyball team is still grasping for improvement in its final matches of the year ...or at least they are going to be grasping for improvement after being slaughtered by Cerritos in last Friday evening's game.

Although the Donas have been progressing from duel to duel, they didn't present too much potential in their meet against Cerritos, in which the Donas were routed 15-3, 15-8 and 15-5, placing the squad fourth in conference play with a record of 6-8 overall.

Coach Nancy Warren wasn't very pleased with her troupe's performance, but wasn't expecting any great miracles against the South Coast Conference leaders.

"Cerritos is very quick and they get to everything," explained Warren. "They don't have to run a lot of deceiving plays. They can play good basic volleyball because they can dig everything up!"

As with all athletic teams, the Donas have their ups and downs. Unfortunately, their struggle with Cerritos was definitely a downer for the Donas.

"The ups and downs are a natural thing in volleyball. You just never know when they're coming," added Warren. "You just hope they come at the right time."

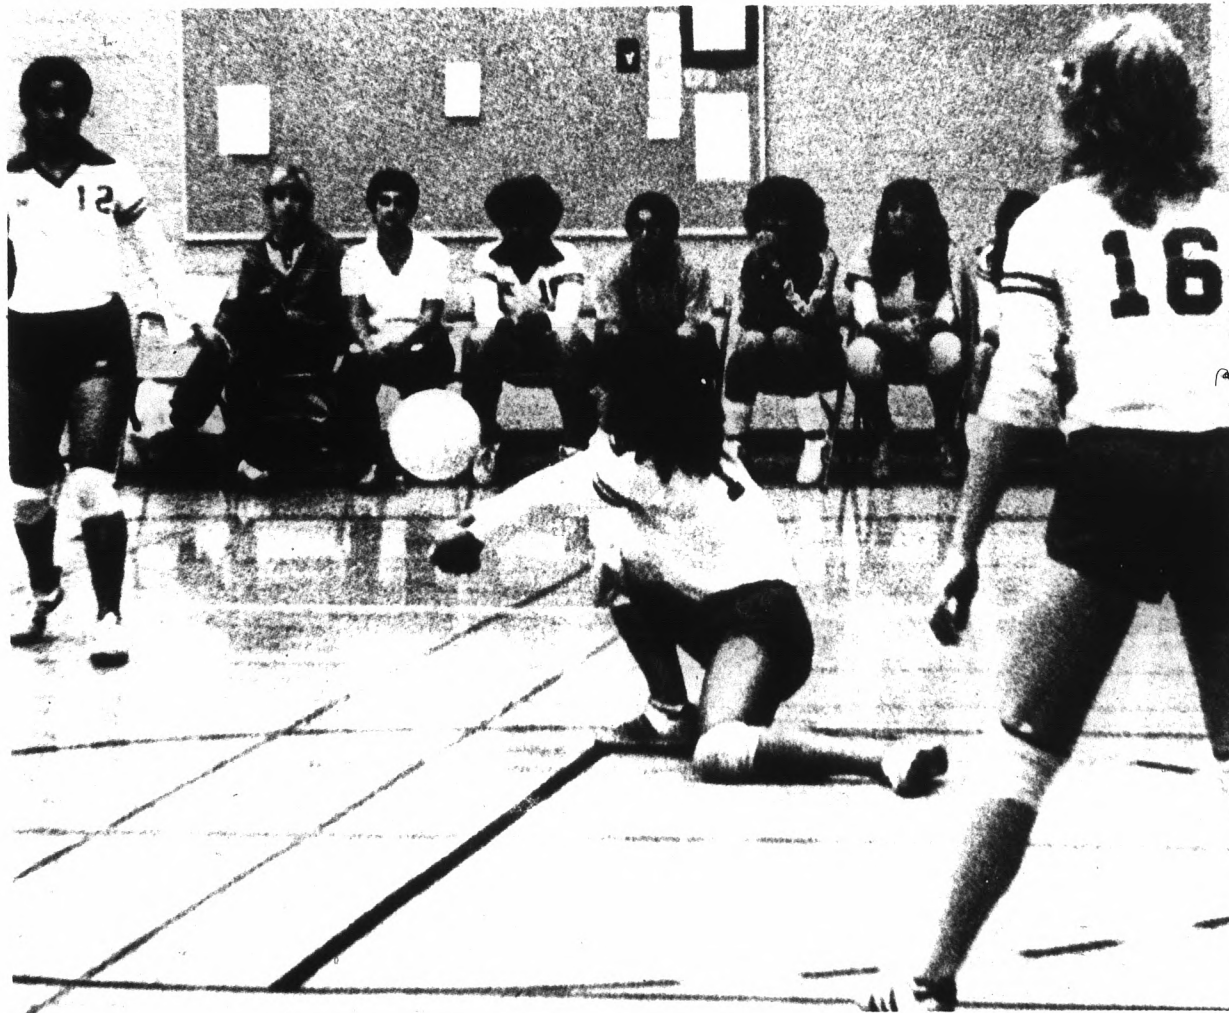

Despite their peaks and valleys, Warren feels that her girls have lived up to her expectations. "I'm not disappointed at all. I'm seeing a lot of good things happening that I didn't expect to see," exclaimed the coach. "In a general sense, I'm pleased with what's happened this season."

But that's not the only thing that has or will bring happiness to the veteran mentor. If all the members of the group return next year, Warren will be very delighted.

"We feel more confident this year than ever before about getting people back," expressed Warren. "They are very eager to learn and try. It's a very nice group. They hold each other together and they all contribute to the team in different ways."

The Donas will be playing a few non-league games this week because of the Veterans Day holiday, before facing second place Orange Coast College on Nov. 18 in Cook Gym at 7 p.m.

The Donas final match will be on Nov. 20 against Mt. SAC at Mt. SAC at 7 p.m.

THERE'S ONE PLACE TO GET $15,200 FOR COLLEGE IN JUST TWO YEARS.

Soon you'll have your associate's degree. And if you're thinking of continuing your education, you know just how expensive that will be.

But consider the Army. In the Army, if you participate in the Veterans' Educational Assistance Program (VEAP), you can accumulate $15,200 for college in just two years.

That's significant for two reasons. Obviously, that's a lot of money. But what you may not have realized is that two years is the shortest military enlistment available.

VEAP is a great way to make it on your own. Since it's not a loan, you won't need a co-signer or collateral. And you'll never have to worry about making payments after graduation.

It's strictly a savings program, and the money is all yours for school.

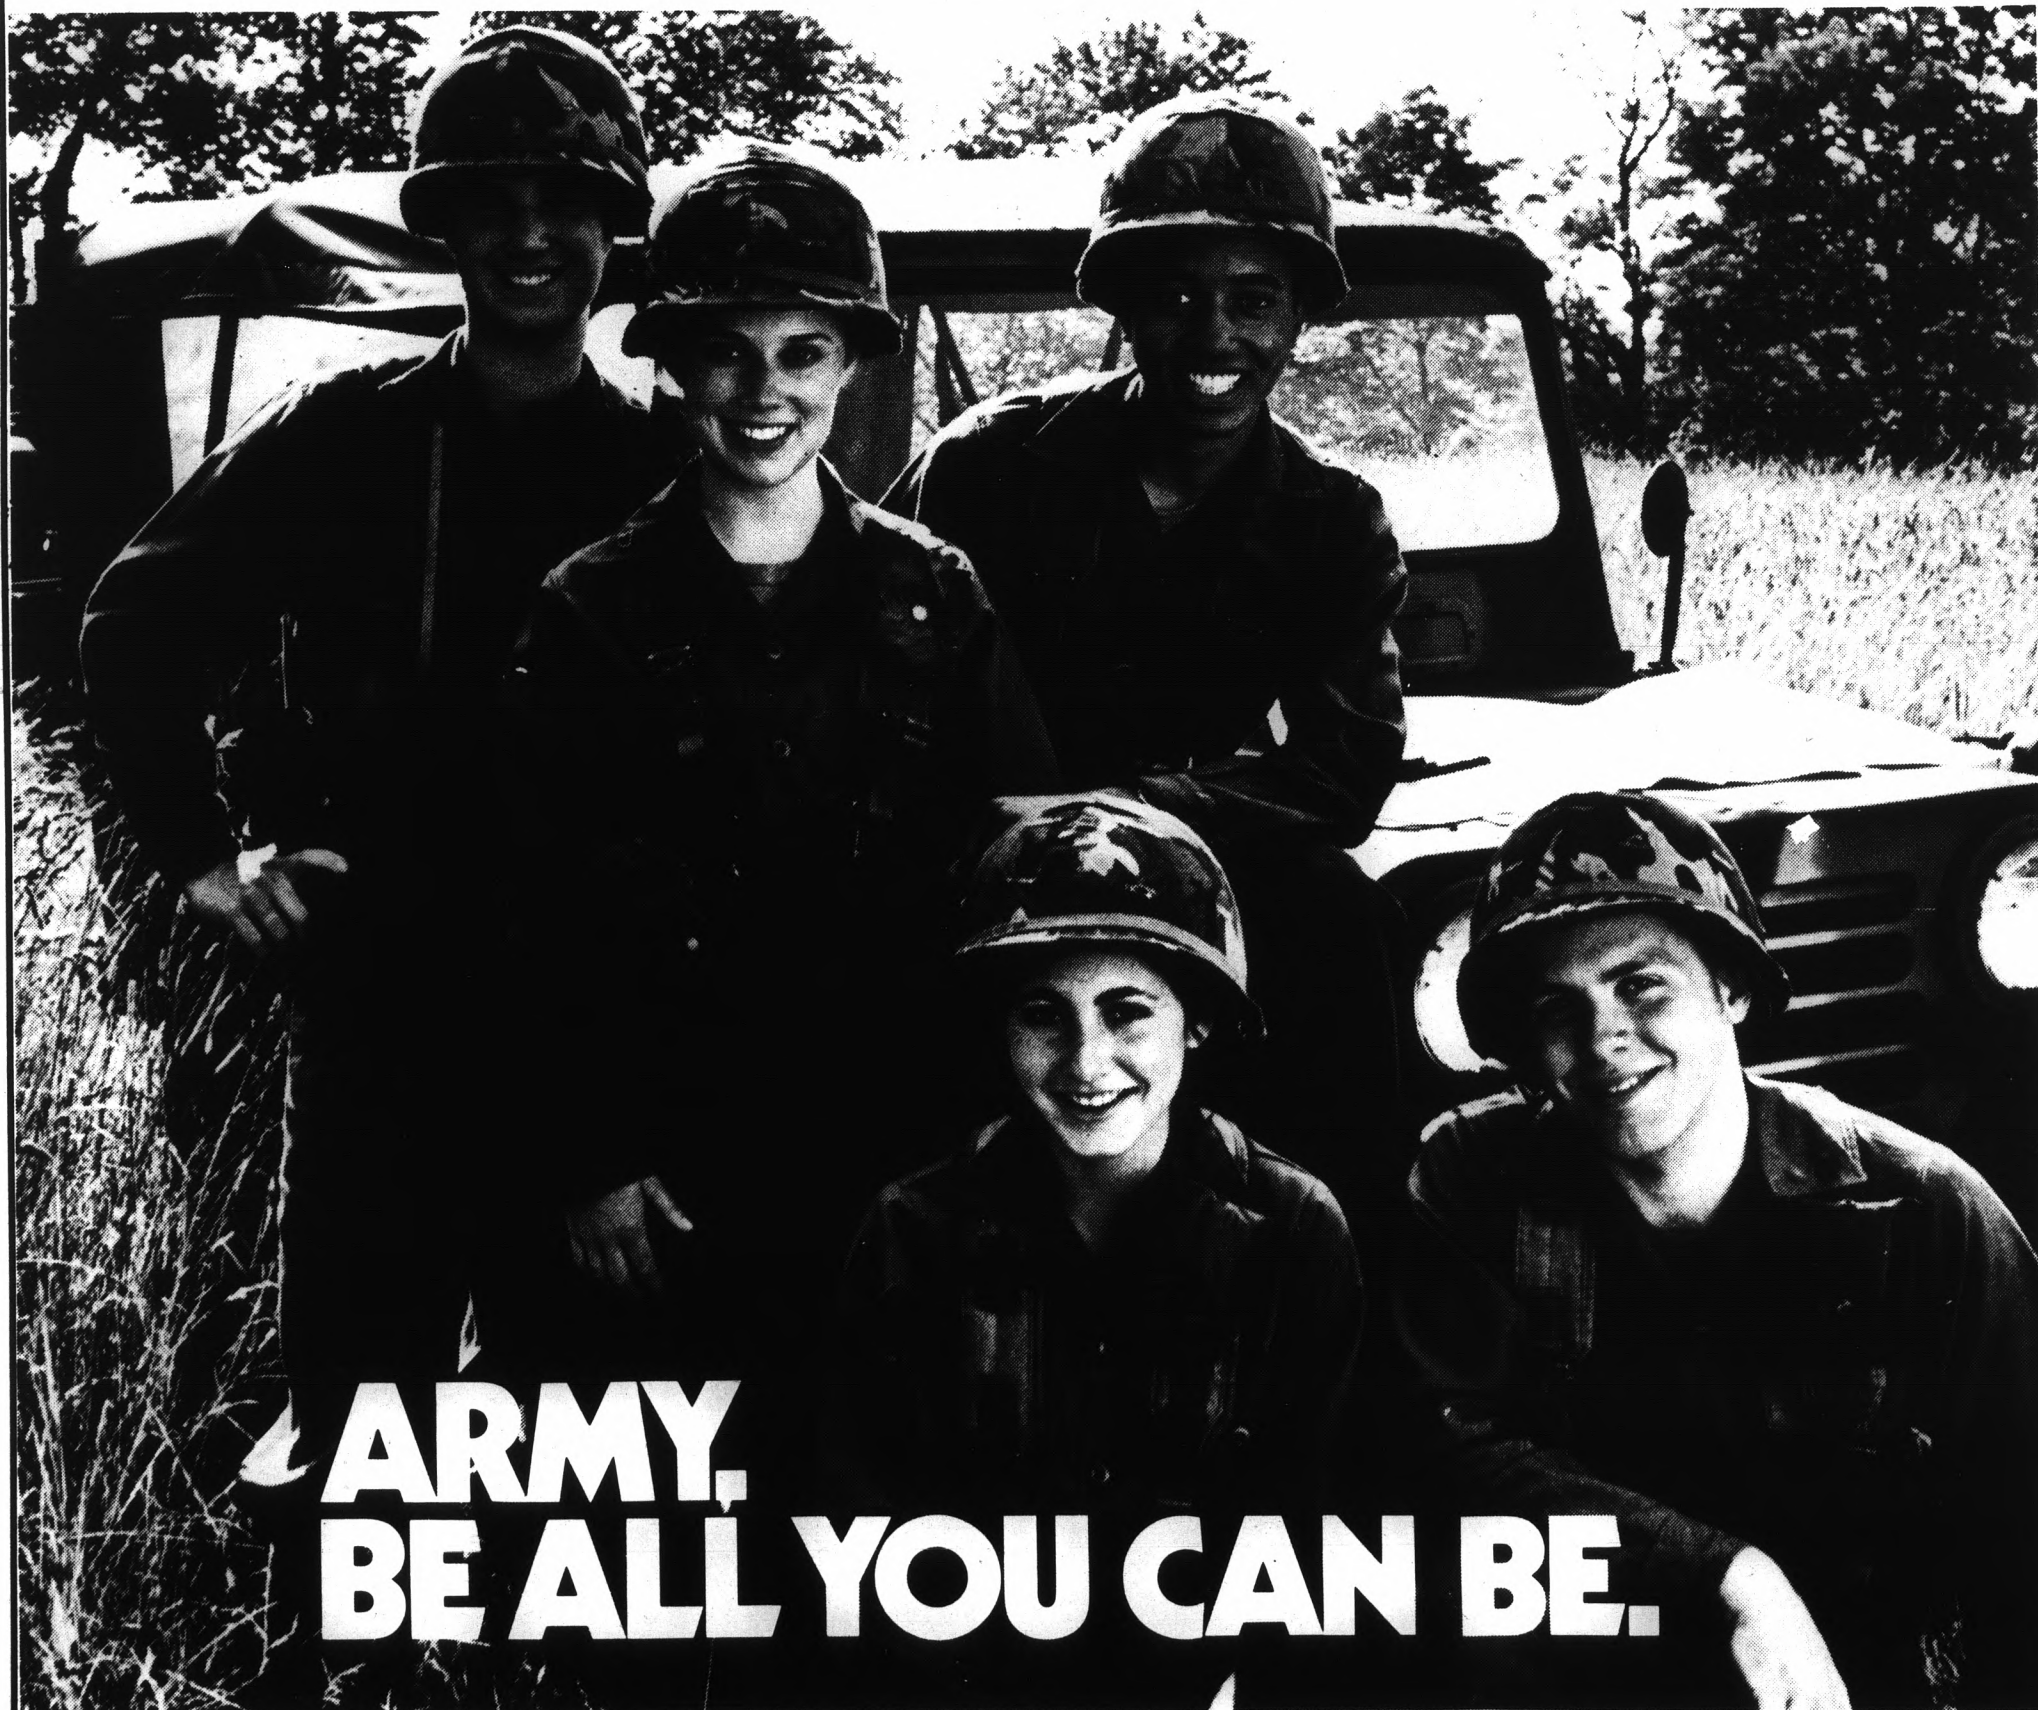

VEAP is surprisingly simple. If you save between $25 and $100 each month while you're in the Army, the government will match your savings two-for-one. And, on top of that, you might even qualify for the exclusive Army education incentive of $8,000.

And remember, in just two years, you'll be back in school.

Serve your country as you serve yourself. Call 800-421-4422. In California, call 800-252-0011. Alaska and Hawaii, 800-423-2244. Better yet, look in the Yellow Pages under "Recruiting."
